MEYER'S CHAT WITH DEVIL.

He Tells How He Conquered
Demon, Jealousy.

Not Looking for a Bank of Roses in Heaven.

Adds Four Meetings in
Day and Evening.

To get close to the men, or rather to prevent the possibility of the erection of an ecclesiastical wall between himself and the men, if such a thing were possible, the plain preacher, Rev. F. Meyer of London, last night told his audience of men in Eike's Hall that he had not always been a parson.

"I was born in London," he said, "a little village that some of you may have seen, and, therefore, I'm a cockney. My early life was spent in business—in the tea trade—so you see I've not been a parson all my life."

Though Dr. Meyer is but 54 years of age, it need not necessarily be considered uncomplimentary to say that he looks 65, for in his short life he has performed a prodigious amount of labor. Besides spending the first half of his life in business, and the last half in preaching all over the world, as well as in his regular church in London, being now on his tenth trip to America, he has written a vast number of books. Referring to these last night in Temple Auditorium, Rev. A. C. Smith said:

"I heard Dr. Meyer refer to his books this afternoon as 'milk.' I have at least a dozen of them in my library, and they are not milk; they are cream—some of them pretty near gone to butter."

Dr. Meyer found his theme at the auditorium last night in the words from Romans: "But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lust thereof."

The discourse was broken up into many parts, each having a lesson he desired to fasten in the minds of his hearers. While speaking of the apostle's idea of salvation, he said:

"I'm not going to sit on a bank of roses when I get to heaven; I'm just going to look around and say, 'Lord, what is there for me to do.' I'll have my new body then; there'll be no fatigue—no gray hairs."

He told the story of a Roman marriage, notable in Bible history, of the intermarriage of an agnostic and a Christian woman, and the final ending away of the man by another woman. He gave girls some advice about being careful in their choice of men. Before telling the story, Dr. Meyer said:

"I hope I shall be able to tell this story so I shall offend no lady present, and yet be able to help somebody."

He stepped to the front of the stage and took the pulpit. He told the story of the weak preacher over the knuckles. "Take your children to the strongest preacher you can find," he said. "I'll take them to a kindergarten church where the preacher reads everything."

Coming to the portion of his talk under the head of "Strife and Jealousy," he said in a hesitating way, that caused a laugh: "That—that—ah—comes to me," for he had promised on the previous night that he would tell them how he overcame jealousy. He said:

"Among the ministers of England there is no sin so ripe as that of jealousy. It is so in England, but I would not apply it to—any other country."

"Jealousy gave me a great deal of trouble until I came to the text: 'Put on Christ.' There was a young man named McGregor, who became a preacher, and who said that I had been instrumental in leading him to Christ, but I was jealous of him because he could talk better than I could."

Dr. Meyer told in an amusing yet earnest way, how himself and the devil had a conversation while sitting on the same platform with McGregor. "I talked first and said my worst," said Meyer. "and sat down. As soon as McGregor opened his lips I knew he was in fine fettle. All my jealousy rose up because I had to sit there and see and hear it all. The devil said to me:

"He is speaking well."
"I know it," said I.
"You don't enjoy it."
"No, I don't," I'm replying."

"I put on Jesus Christ and asked him to help McGregor to speak better, and he did it. The devil got tired and left; he was making a saint of me, and he didn't want to do that."

"The preaching of many a minister is spoiled by the pouring of cold water by other ministers sitting on the platform, who are jealous of him."

Turning toward the reporters' table, Dr. Meyer said: "Now, don't put this in the papers, for I might get back to England—what I'm going to tell you about Campbell Morgan."

"When Campbell Morgan came to London his church was very near to my church, and everybody said: 'Campbell Morgan will empty your church,' and the cursed jealousy of my heart began to rise up. I prayed for Morgan just to mortify the devil and keep myself right."

The speaker then told how he had proposed to his members that they give a great reception to Morgan and his people, and the plan was carried out, with the result of good feeling all around and both churches were regularly filled.

He announced that his talks today and tonight would have something to do with the subject of "Temptation." There was good music by the congregation, under the leadership of H. N. Jeffery, and a solo was sung by Mrs. Paul Hechter.

MEN'S MEETING.
Immediately after the close of the meeting Dr. Meyer hurried to Eike's Hall, where he was to address a meeting of men. To his surprise, the hall was full, and before announcing another meeting in the same place for Thursday night at 8:15, he took a vote to see how the men felt about it. The vote was unanimously in favor. This was at the close of the fourth meeting addressed by Dr. Meyer yesterday.

HIS DAY MEETINGS.
Yesterday morning Dr. Meyer addressed the Ministerial Union at the Central Presbyterian Church, directing his remarks particularly to institutional work. He indorses work in this direction, but emphasized the thought that the spiritual side must be kept foremost.

At 10 afternoon meeting in Temple Auditorium Dr. Meyer spoke on the Trinity. Referring to the mystery of the Trinity he said that people had no reason to complain that they could not understand, for the reason that there was an unfathomable mystery in man's own being.

"The soul is central," he said; "the seat of our individuality. It reaches up to God and down through the body, purifying and freeing it from its material desires. So long as the soul is enslaved to temporal and material things, it cannot reach its liberty in the spiritual."

REACHING GOLD OF BULLFROG.

ANGELENO COMPANY SEEMS TO HAVE GOOD THING.

Sixty Thousand Dollars to the Ton
Shown by Assay of Ore Taken
Four Feet Below Surface—Union
Thugs in Arizona Gold Roads District Restrained.

Los Angeles are preparing to get at the richest of bullfrogs, and who can say what local millionaires may spring into being by working the new El Dorado of Nevada. As the Comstock lode was the source of the origin of so much wealth and made millionaires at San Francisco so may the development of Bullfrog, Searchlight, Johnnie, Sandy and Goldfield promote the growth of Los Angeles and the wealth of those of its people who venture into the district to grasp fortunes. But it is all a matter of chance.

The latest invasion of Nevada by local people is that of the Kismet Gold Mining Company, a corporation just formed in this city with a capitalization of $200,000, having 400,000 shares at $2 par value.

The officers of the company are C. J. Lehman, the Lehman Trust Company, president; P. W. Ross, cashier of the postoffice, secretary; L. Bessick of the Commercial National Bank, treasurer; L. V. Longway, general manager, and Henry J. Stevens, attorney. The above-named also constitute the directorate.

That there is great wealth beneath the surface of the five claims owned by the company there is every reason to believe. Sixty thousand dollars to the ton—almost pure gold—is the assay obtained from ore taken from a depth of about four feet from the surface on a cross-vein four feet wide.

Work is now proceeding on a shaft on this vein. Of the rich ore as yet only a small quantity has been actually developed. The main vein, so far only scratched, has developed only slight values as values go in that country—on the surface but it is 100 feet wide, something that makes miners accustomed to ten and twenty foot veins look askance and shake their heads in doubt, but the Shoshone property, which within six months has actually achieved a fame that promises to place it among the world's greatest treasure holes, and which lies but a short distance from the Kismet mine, is an even wider vein—150 feet.

The Shoshone did not develop any extraordinary values at the surface, but at a slight depth began to give up its riches. The formations of the two properties are practically identical. It is the intention to complete the shaft on the cross vein and thus go under the main body.

Some specimens of ore taken from the Kismet property were recently on exhibition at Montgomery's jewelry store, where they attracted much attention. The claims of the Kismet Company were located by Longway, not its general manager. He was at Goldfield when the Bullfrog excitement began and immediately headed south in quest of fortune. A local prospect, which are near Beatty, he came to Los Angeles to get backing to work them, the city has known.

The company is expected to be virtually a close corporation. The courts have interfered to check the union-labor agitators and their followers at their favorite pastime of stirring up trouble destroying property and intimidating—perhaps murdering—the workmen who decline to obey their orders. In this case it is the Miners' Federation that has been restrained from further mischief-making in the Gold Roads district of Mohave county, Arizona.

It will be remembered that some two weeks ago the non-union workers of the German-American Mining Company of this city employed at Thomas' mine, properties of the Kismet and Virgin mines, were attacked at night by a band of armed thugs and driven out of camp. By maintaining a firm front and promptly appealing to the trouble was nipped in the bud. Last week, upon the petition of the mine owners, Judge Sisson in the district court at Prescott, issued an injunction against the agitators, restraining them from further interference with the operation of the mines or with the non-union men.

GOES TO BULLFROG.
Charles H. Treat, who recently returned from a trip to Tonopah and Goldfield in the interest of local people, will leave this week for Bullfrog, where he has interests. He speaks very highly of the new district as well as of the Shoshone, which he believes will give, in their development, one of the greatest booms to Los Angeles since the city has known.

TO DEVELOP CLAIMS.
The California-Arizona Exploration company has been organized by local capitalists for the purpose of buying and developing promising claims and when they reach a proper stage placing them on the market. The company will not carry on mining business, but is known as the Findley from its inventor who is here putting it up. It has a much greater capacity than older makes and is capable of working the lowest grades of ores at the least cost. It is a simple working machine for which a number of important advantages are claimed.

NEW CONCENTRATOR.
A concentrator of recent make that has been in use for some time past in some other parts but which is new in this section is to be put in operation at San Diego to handle tailings from the properties on Cedros Island. The concentrator is known as the Findley from its inventor who is here putting it up. It has a much greater capacity than older makes and is capable of working the lowest grades of ores at the least cost. It is a simple working machine for which a number of important advantages are claimed.

Church and Trust Money.

LONG BEACH, April 11.—[To the Editor of the Times:] The adverse opinions of the clergymen in the interview as published in the Sunday Times, concerning the propriety of receiving gifts from Mr. Rockefeller, seem to reach the real heart of the matter in part. It should be considered in the light of the new field of political righteousness which the church is today entering as an aggressive reformatory agency. The Christian denomination has changed their base of operations. Formerly it was a strenuous contention for the faith as each saw it, and each claimed the exclusive authority to interpret and apply. Now it is a common faith and a common purpose. They have new turned their batteries away from each other and have lined up in solid column against common foes.

Organized Christianity is arraying itself against organized evil in every form. It is the church which is now the recognized foe of the liquor traffic and any gifts of money received from the traffic in any form must be regarded as hush money and by so much it becomes inconsistent for any pastor to receive it on the plea that the devil's money is as good as any other. Conditions have changed and the church cannot afford to place itself in this position by which it will be compromised in the future for using its activity and aggressiveness depends the solution of the saloon question.

The church through the great trust system. The churches through their official bodies have spoken on this question and called it an evil. It has become a national question and the church in its new field of energy must consider and act on the moral questions affecting the people which are involved in it. It is generally conceded that the methods employed by the Standard Oil Company are very questionable. Many people in Los Angeles are now being grievously oppressed by the mine owners. Many Christian men and women, clergymen and teachers, a few years ago, invested their all in this question and called it an evil. EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

It has been visited as a cherished friend, William Wetmore Story, the great American sculptor and painter in Rome, where he made his home for many years surrounded by the treasures and oriental relics, such as the statue of a Roman emperor might have gloried in, was the privilege of Miss Mary E. Phillips, author and illustrator, who is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips of 3100 Menlo avenue, and who wrote a book, "Life and Letters" of William James, "Life and Letters" of W. W. Story are also of interest, though not touching so deeply the very pulse of life and soul of the man, as does this book.

Miss Phillips is a charmingly modest and sweet little woman with a fire in her brown eyes, and just a hint of the woman which has made her win the admiration of the smiling "curve" of her lips. "Oh, it was indeed a revelation to me," she said, to visit Mr. Story in his home and to see him work. He is guided by his judgment.

"You see he took no pupils in art," she said, "and I was studying the work of the great masters in his influence that I took to painting books for children." At the time, Miss Phillips was a young girl, for if there is one thing that Miss Phillips has, it is her love for children. She has written a book for children, "Laurel Leaf," which has been a great success. She has also written a book for children, "Laurel Leaf," which has been a great success. She has also written a book for children, "Laurel Leaf," which has been a great success.

Miss Mary E. Phillips, author, was in Los Angeles.

By of No. 1625 Santee street have returned from Sierra Madre, after an absence of two months. Mrs. Howard will be at home to her friends, as usual, on the second and fourth Tuesdays.

Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Miller are now living at No. 1116 Iowa street, where Mrs. Miller will be at home to friends on the first Friday of the month.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The Ruskin Art Club is beginning an active campaign in the interest of a permanent art gallery for Los Angeles.

A call has been issued to the clubs of the city to send the president and four representatives of each club to discuss practical ways and means for bringing this desirable end about to a meeting which will be held at the afternoon of the 19th inst. at the Ruskin Art rooms.

If this permanent art gallery is secured by the women's clubs of Los Angeles, it will add one more to the good works accomplished by the united effort of women. In St. Louis such a permanent exhibit has only lately been secured, and it was done there by the artists themselves, and not by art-loving women.

Alfalfa Haying Begins.

"The reports for the week," says the climate and crop-service bulletin of the Weather Bureau, "show that generally the weather has been favorable for the growth of field crops and in places early-sown grain is heading, though some sections state that cold, cloudy weather retarded the growth of grain, and there is complaint of fly, but as yet no serious damage has occurred, and that grain has a yellow appearance and seems short, but warm weather is expected to cause a more active growth. Absence of rain enabled farmers to commence haying in the alfalfa districts. Orange trees are heavily loaded with bloom and in places are making an unusual amount of new growth."

Brilliant Dinner.

The dinner given last evening by Mrs. Edward L. Doherty of No. 8 Chester Place in honor of ex-Senator and Mrs. Thomas Kearns of Utah was an exquisitely appointed affair. The beautiful dining-room glowed with the light from many electric bulbs, and directly over the table lights shone through the pale green of the grape globes over which sparkling leaves fell. Maman Couchet roses and mimosas formed a centerpiece round and fifty over the table asparagus ferns and tulips trailed lightly while the lovely tulle was strewn with the greenery. Souvenirs at each place consisted of French roses of pink disques within which glowed the light of a single candle. The menu cards were particularly attractive, being French heads done in water color by the French artist, Wicheux, each a work of art in itself. All through the dinner a programme of classical music was rendered by members of the Sunny Southern Trio, composed of Miss Grace Adele Freebey, Miss Ethel Pearl Mitchell and Miss Frances Aylesworth, assisted by Mme. Groff-Mousson, "cellist. Covers were laid for former Judge and Mrs. J. S. Chapman, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. David Keith of Salt Lake City, Mrs. J. Crampton Anderson and Mrs. J. E. Betzold. Later in the evening the early set of the drawing-room where sweet music was played on the beautiful golden piano adorned with flowers and cutlery done by prominent artists. The drawing-room contained a pleasing arrangement of bright pink ivy geraniums.

For Miss Eddy.

Miss Helen Mathewson of the Hotel Coronado gave a charmingly appointed luncheon on Monday afternoon to Miss Sarah Eddy of Providence, R. I., who is visiting here. Decorations for the luncheon were all in yellow, and in the center of the table masses of jonquils and ferns were placed, while over the snowy linen were stretched bands of bright satin ribbon, ending in fancy bows. Candied strawberries, yellow shades were on the table and places were marked with cards adorned with hand-painted jonquils. Most of the menu was carried out in yellow and the strawberries were served in orange-wood baskets, while the salad was in oranges. Those for whom plates were laid were Mrs. E. A. Lamb, Miss Augusta Lamb, Miss Bennett of Pasadena, Mrs. E. A. Canfield, Mrs. E. W. Chamberlain, Mrs. Elizabeth Deardorf and others.

Miss Eddy is well known in the New England States, having been the founder of humane education in this and other countries. It was this same lady who translated "Black Beauty" into a number of other languages. She is identified with the humane movement in the East and while in Mexico she made arrangements that a number of fountains should be built throughout the country for the benefit of the animals.

For Miss Fuller.

Miss Frances Fuller was guest of honor at a happy heart party and linen shower yesterday afternoon, given by Miss Elizabeth Pitt of No. 1417 Iowa street. Red and white were utilized in the artistic and fetching decorative scheme, red and white geraniums being effectively placed. Polished aluminum ferns were also artistically grouped. Score cards were red hearts to which were tied by means of scarlet ribbons the wished-upon. A pretty little opera bag of pale blue silk was the first prize. The linen shower, which followed, was a surprise to the charming little bride-to-be, and all the pieces were contained in a flower basket, which swung from the chandelier. They were presented to the guest of honor in a pleasing little basket made by the always charming Miss Pitt. Her guests included Mrs. W. F. Schenck, Miss Constance Britz, Isabel Workley, Edith Leovy, Pauline Wilcox, Mary Golden, Florence Judd, Myra Rice, Marjorie Delmas, Edith Upham, Rosa Reed and Grace Adele Freebey.

Miss Pauline Wilcox, one of the prettiest and charmingest girls who will act as bridesmaid for Miss Frances Fuller, will entertain at the Mason Opera-house with a box party in compliment to Miss Fuller on next Saturday afternoon.

Trolley Whist Club.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell of No. 2641 South Alvarado street were at home last evening to members of the Trolley Whist Club. The home was made attractive with flowers and ferns, and prizes were awarded. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zucker, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Donn A. Judd, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Routsan, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Lynn, Mrs. M. J. Smith and Charles H. Hurd.

Interpretation of Parsifal.

Mrs. Philip Gengembre Hubert of Hobart Boulevard will entertain this afternoon with an informal musical to which Miss Helen Parsons, a talented pianist, will contribute an interpretation of the opera "Parsifal," which will be of much interest to guests, since the opera itself is so soon to be presented here.

Luncheon for Visitors.

Mrs. Charles H. Hinchcliffe of No. 2414 South Grand avenue will entertain on Thursday with an informal luncheon in compliment to Mrs. Charles Webster, who is visiting here, and also for Mrs. Wilfred Reynolds, who will start next Monday for an extended eastern trip.

you run an automobile it costs money—for gasoline and for wear on tires—with, of course, the possibility of repairs.

A light car costs less than a heavy car—takes less gasoline to move it, makes less tire expense, and is less often (when properly constructed) in the repair shop.

The Franklin is a swift effective car built light and strong. No waste of power. No unnecessary weight.

Harper's Book News

Mother and Daughter

A helpful and suggestive book for mothers, dealing with every phase of the daughter's training from babyhood up. Table manners, pin-money, the "story-hour" custom, suggest some of the many topics that find bright and sympathetic discussion. Mrs. Gabrielle Jackson is a well-known writer for girls.

Selene

The theme of this dramatic poem by Amelie Rives is the love of Diana for Endymion. It is full of human charm and exquisite emotion—a remarkable piece of work which must take front rank among poetical works of our day.

"Amid the Foothills Fair"

Beautiful Country Homes 35 Minutes From the City.

A SHADED WALK AT WESTGATE

The country home, with its delightful surroundings and genuine comforts, is no longer the privilege of the rich only. The opening of beautiful Westgate marks a period in which the man of moderate means is given an opportunity to own a spacious villa home at terms easily within his reach. Westgate comprises a series of half-acre, acre and five-acre lots, being a section of a district extending from the Soldiers' Home to the Ocean. It possesses unusual scenic features, is covered with grand old oaks and sycamores, and commands an unsurpassed mountain and ocean view. The soil and climate of Hollywood are acknowledged to be the most desirable in the county, and experts have pronounced the climatic conditions of Westgate to be exactly similar. Westgate improvements will consist of broad avenues, shaded walks, abundant water supply (water piped to every lot,) and all other requirements that make for the ideal suburban home. The L. A.-Pacific Electric Railway Co. are extending their tracks through the Soldiers' Home grounds and through Westgate, which will result in an admirable service to the city and beach resorts—35 minutes from the shopping center of Los Angeles and 12 minutes from Santa Monica. Could you desire a more perfect service from the typical country home to the big, busy city? The wealthy Chicago business man living in the suburbs considers himself fortunate if he happens to reach the city in 45 minutes. Life is too short a span to live in the dusty city, when the cool, quiet, restful, energy-renewing country life of Westgate is placed at one's disposal. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent unstintingly upon Westgate in order to make it the most desirable suburban residence district in the county. The Grand Roadway, 180 feet wide, to extend from the National Home to the sea, and later to be connected with Sunset Boulevard, will be one of the most picturesque highways in this country. It will be known as the "San Vincente Road." Westgate is not being set forth as food for speculators. It is being advertised, however, as a really desirable suburban home project, representing, at the same time, a subject for investment unequalled in this vicinity.

We don't coax you to buy. We would ask you to investigate, however. Present prices will be materially advanced as improvements advance.

MONTEBELLO

COUNTRY LIFE WITH CITY PRIVILEGES. One of the really important periods of a man's life comes when he selects the site of his permanent home. Many realize the significance of this period, and after careful deliberation, choose wisely. On the other hand a large number select without good judgment and feel the effects resulting from this unwise choice throughout the rest of their lives. Important conditions to be considered are climate, soil, water, accessibility to business center, improvements prospects and prices. No suburb of Los Angeles seems to meet these requirements as Montebello does. The water supply is the BEST AND MOST PERMANENT in the Southwest. Soil is adapted to everything growable. Big incomes being made with dewberries, strawberries, cucumbers, popcorn, etc. Nearly 100 beautiful homes—all of the "productive" kind. Visit Montebello today. #### Home Lectures by Jarvis.

At the beautiful residence of Dr. M. L. Moore, corner of Alvarado and Eighth streets, about fourteen members of a "study class" met at 11 a. m. yesterday to hear a lecture by Simon Jarvis of Los Angeles on "The use of the trance condition in the gaining of new knowledge." Mr. Jarvis is the author of the printed lectures which have recently been reviewed in "The Care of the Body" department of this paper. This study class is composed of ladies of the Westlake Park and Alvarado street districts, and as the club has so far got along without a name it has been good humoredly proposed to call the sisterhood "The Sikhs Club," as in sound the word Sikhs is somewhat like the word "Psychic" but not so pronounced in suggesting the club's special form of entertainment and study, besides containing that hint of orientalism which is apt to keep people guessing. With Mrs. Moore were Mrs. Charles N. Flint, Miss J. B. Hemmings and others whose interest in the subjects dealt with is of an educational kind.

STARVING LUNATIC DISCOVERED IN DEN OF ROCKS NEAR RIVER.

Policemen coax insane woman from little cabin which she had made in river rip-rap, hiding there for three days.

At mention of the name the officers recalled that on Sunday they were notified to look for her. Saturday afternoon, she disappeared from her home, No. 327 East Twenty-seventh street, with all the money in the house. She had been suffering from a nervous ailment for weeks, and was not rational. The taking of the money led her relations to believe that she had boarded a train and left the city.

No person had seen her, and the inquiry which the police made resulted in the discovery of no clue to her whereabouts. She had found the hole in the rocks the day she left home. She remained in the hole all day and came out only at night. Yesterday afternoon when she was seen by the party of boys she had issued from her hiding place only to get a can of water. She had a few crumbs of bread, but her great weakness showed that she had had practically nothing to eat since Saturday.

When taken to the female ward of the City Jail, she became violent, and was strapped down. Her relatives were notified, and they requested that she be kept there over night. Today she probably will be taken to the County Hospital.

LOST HIS STAR.
Policeman Bud Wilson Gets Drunk on His Beat and Insults His Superior Officer.

Patrolman Bud Wilson who was on duty at Third and Main streets yesterday afternoon, was suspended by Capt. Auble.

Somebody telephoned to the Police Station that Wilson was drunk on his beat and insulted his superior officer. He found Wilson considerably intoxicated, and he was taken to headquarters.

As it happened, when Capt. Auble and Wilson entered the office of Chief Hammett the latter was at the moment entertaining Mayor McLaughlin, and a statement was made by the captain in the presence of the two superiors, that Wilson was drunk and insulting, and told Capt. Auble in language more vigorous than polite, that he did not care anything for him nor his authority.

Wilson was forthwith stripped of his star, and will no doubt be unceremoniously discharged when the case comes before the Police Commission.

INVITED DEATH.
Colorado Man Who Ended Life Here Tried to Prompt Denver Detective to Shoot Him.

Fred Mack, the Colorado man who committed suicide Saturday night by shooting himself at the Parker House on East Fifth street, was no anxious to die that he tried to force a Denver detective to kill him in that city two weeks ago.

Mack was a bartender in a Denver saloon, and, according to a dispatch from the Colorado metropolis last night, insulted Fred Holton, a private detective, with the sole purpose of provoking a quarrel.

Holton drew a revolver, and Mack, baring his breast, challenged the detective to fire.

LEPER SECRET NOW REVEALED.

Death Tells the Story of Run-away Plague-man.

"Heart Disease," Said the Doctor's Certificate.

Grim Answer to Mystery of Fariss's Disappearance.

The startling fact came to light yesterday that Marshall B. Fariss, whose death was reported to the City Health Department as having occurred from "heart disease," was in reality the leper who escaped from quarantine in this city a few months ago while the Supervisors were making arrangements for his isolation in some out-of-the-way part of the county.

The fact that this death occurred at Alhambra, where for some time the man had been living, in a thickly settled community, and that the case was not reported to the County Health Officer—even after it was known that the patient was a fugitive from quarantine, and even though he was attended by a physician of standing—has stirred up officials of precautions to prevent any further spread of this terrible malady.

Fariss was an old-time Californian and is said to have lived on the Pacific Coast for forty years. His home had been in Los Angeles for twenty years, and he was a well-known local brick contractor before he fell ill of the plague.

A SOLITARY INSTANCE.
Medical men say this is the only known case in Southern California where a white person has contracted leprosy. There have been several cases among the Chinese, Japanese and half breeds, and some Kanakas after coming here have become leprosy victims.

When the awful truth broke upon Fariss that he had contracted this incurable malady, his wife determined to stand with him, whatever might be the outcome, and she remained in his hiding place while he was a fugitive awaiting his slow but certain death.

Along last May or June a consultation was held by Drs. Powers, Davidson and McGowan, and the case was declared to be undoubtedly one of leprosy. The patient was quarantined temporarily at his own home on West Second street, and the facts were presented to the Board of Supervisors, that they might make preparation for his isolation.

Before the completion of these plans Fariss disappeared. It was rumored he had escaped to the mountains and was finding shelter in some fastness. The case had been out of the jurisdiction of the City Health Department, it seems to have been dropped.

Now comes the news of the death of Fariss at Alhambra, a pretty deduction of the heart," according to the death certificate, being the cause. But a well-known physician who has seen the body after death and recognized the case as leprosy, no matter what might have been the immediate cause of dissolution.

WAS NEVER NOTIFIED.
Dr. E. N. Mathis, the County Health Officer, last night stated that he had never been notified of the case, although this should have been done promptly by the physician.

"I should have taken every precaution to prevent infection," said Dr. Mathis. "In the case of the Chinese, a man whom we found a leper, I saw the disease, and I saw the danger, and then I had his house and belongings burned, so that there might be no possible chance of infection."

"The law clearly provides that all such cases must be reported at once, and it seems very strange that I have received no notice of this case."

The provisions of County Ordinance No. 91 (New Series) on this subject are as follows:

"Section 4. Should any physician be called to treat, or come in contact with, or have knowledge of any case or cases of smallpox, typhoid fever, or leprosy, within the borders of Los Angeles county, he shall enforce the strictest quarantine measures, and communicate by the surest and quickest means (the telephone if possible) with the County Health Officer, whose duty it shall be, and who shall have full power in the interest of the community, to remove any such patients, if such removal can be accomplished without danger to life, to pest-house or other place of safety, and to otherwise enforce such quarantine measures as he may deem wise and expedient in the interest of the general health of the community."

Section 24 of this ordinance provides: "Any person violating any provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $500, or by imprisonment in the County Jail of Los Angeles county not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

SIX LEPROSY CASES.
The death of Fariss brings to mind the discussions which have taken place at various times among the officials in regard to preparation of a suitable place for the isolation of such cases as may appear from time to time. During the past few years there have been probably half a dozen well defined cases of leprosy in this vicinity.

It is well known that the County Supervisors are loth to have such patients cared for at the County Hospital. At one time the idea of securing one of the smaller of the channel islands for a leper hospital was seriously discussed. Doubtless the disappearance of the leper patient as here described was a relief to the Board of Supervisors; but the discovery that he found a harbor in a well-settled community until death claimed him is not reassuring, and the subject of a suitable hospice for such cases will now be earnestly revived.

"COL." BROOKS IS TOO FINE.

WANTS TO DEFINE THE ISSUE OF JEFFERSONIAN BANQUET.

His Radical Views on Party Do Not Please Master of Ceremonies, M. P. Snyder—Unlikely to Celebrate Birthday of Their Iron Saint in Good Old Way.

The small but untiring remnant of the Democratic party in Los Angeles are making preparations to celebrate Thomas Jefferson's birthday Thursday evening in the time-honored manner—with speech and song and flowing bowl around the feast as they were wont to do in the days of the Democracy when the used to feed at the public crib in order of having to sustain on the hard defeat.

Ex-Mayor Snyder and A. C. H. are the men who will have charge of the funeral baked meats, which were served at Café Bristol, and with distinguished Democrats at the table of the affair, it goes without saying that the dinner will not be had in enthusiasm and ecstacy. Col. Speltz, of Bakersfield, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, has promised to be present to spend a toast. Attorney Nesbitt, San Bernardino will be the only speaker from out of town. Local binders will take up the rest of the time between and after courses.

Thus far only one fly has been in the ointment that will be to annoy the sore spots of the much flattered and leprosy party at the banquet. One fly, ordinarily, is not enough to spoil a political feast, but when of the blue bottle, or rather the "grass" variety like "Col." Brooks of Kentucky, that fly is in to make the dinner rather messy.

That same "Col." Brooks is the one that is raising all the stink on particular occasion.

The story goes that Mr. Harper visited Brooks to attend the Jeffersonian banquet in the capacity of an ad interim speaker. "Col." Brooks not only had the price ($1.50) of a plate at the banquet, but was willing to square it for the privilege of rounding out a gustatory feast and flow of soul.

His soul-stirring eloquence. He, therefore promptly accepted the invitation to speak, and selected for his subject, "Party Policy, or the Issue."

Thereupon the Department, it is said, have called upon Mr. Snyder, chairman of the Programme Committee, by whom to inform him that "Col." Brooks had consented to have a toast at the banquet. But the chairman of the programme committee did not seem to be pleased to hear that his "Col." Brooks was willing to make some remarks on party policy.

"I hardly think it safe to let this 'Col.' Brooks define the issue of 'counsel,' the former Mayor is reported to have demurred.

Before giving his consent to Brooks put on the programme, Snyder wanted to know what the gist of "Col." Brooks' remarks would be if given a chance to speak. Brooks was called to the telephone and proceeded to outline his speech. He began by saying the Democratic party never had a victory unless it had an issue, believed in slavery just as much as when slavery was the issue, which it won its victories for itself, he believed in putting the negro back in bondage and the Chinese a slave along with them. The Democratic party was the white man's party, believed in maintaining white supremacy.

Brooks also declared himself in favor of the Greek Catholic Church, favor of saloons respectfully conducted and the abolishment of bandy houses, and if you had stood for that, might still be Mayor of this city," added, whereas the ex-Mayor hung round Brooks' name was commended.

Asked last night whether he was going to speak at the Jeffersonian banquet, "Col." Brooks said he had been invited to speak by Mr. Harper, a chairman of the Programme Committee, would stifle speech and cheer him off.

When Mr. Snyder was asked whether it was true that "Col." Brooks was programmed for a speech, he said it was the first he had heard of it. He laughed. He seemed to regard "Col." Brooks' postprandial aspersions as the joke of the season.

ORIENTAL FIDDLESTICK, NO NEW STEAMER LINE.

A MEETING of the directors of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company was held yesterday afternoon at the general offices of the road, in the Huntington building.

Later—First Vice-President J. Ross Clark said: "Sir? No, sir? We did nothing, sir? What? No, sir, road extensions were not discussed. Nothing but a few details of routine business, purely routine business taken up. What's that? Oriental steamships, did you say?"

Nothing in it."

P. S.—Second Vice President T. E. Gibbons said: "Mr. Clark told you the bald, unvarnished truth. Nothing happened at that meeting beyond the passing of a few bills, and nothing doing in the way of extensions. W-h-a-t's that? Now look here, the Salt Lake directors didn't mention a line of steamships to the Orient, or a line of canal boats to Vladivostok, or a line of wheelbarrows to Lhasa; never did mention it, had no idea of mentioning it, never thought of mentioning it. You are too suspicious for us, my son."

Nothing in it."

CHILD HEROINES SAVE A LIFE.

BRAVE LITTLE COLTON GIRLS
TAKE TERRIBLE RISK.

Hanging Over Sandy Edge of Deep Pool They Rescue Baby Coming for the Last Time—Minor Reported to Have Been Frozen to Death Near Goldfield.

COLTON, April 11.—By the presence of mind and bravery of two little girls, Grace Vaughn and Sue Watts, the life of Willie Whism, four-year-old son of W. Whism, was saved. The little fellow was drowning when he was rescued.

The girls, arrayed in their "Sunday frocks," were taking an afternoon stroll, and by chance took their course down toward the sand pit just east of Colton avenue.

This pit is over ten feet deep and about fifty feet in diameter. Since the rains it has been filled with water, and is very dangerous, as the banks easily give way.

As the girls approached this spot they saw a little boy running from the edge of the water as fast as his small feet and his great haste would permit, uttering at almost every step that old significant phrase, "It serves you right. It serves you right."

Who was "served right"? Quickly they looked about to determine, and just in time to see a little head appear above the water and go down again.

A little child was drowning, and the girls knew that in an instant there was no time to spare. No help was at hand, if the life was to be saved they must save it, and they were equal to the emergency.

Neither of the girls could swim, but it had been possible, into the muddy water with their pretty dresses they no doubt would have plunged.

Meanwhile the boy's head appeared above the water a second time. Then quickly they did the only thing possible to save the drowning boy. It was a great risk, greater perhaps than the rescue itself. Grace laid down on the sand near the very edge of the treacherous bank, and Sue held her by the hands. Then, when the boy came in sight for the third and last time, Grace threw herself partially into the water, and grabbed him with both hands, pulling him both "to shore" in the nick of time.

It seems that the little Whism boy and a companion had run away from home and were deeply engaged in the joys of forbidden pleasures, throwing stones into the water, when this youngster went in too.

MORRIS FROZEN TO DEATH.

Colton people believed that Henry R. Morris, the miner and prospector who has made this city his home for eight years is dead; that he was frozen to death near Goldfield.

Last night Craner B. Morris, City Attorney, received a telegram from Goldfield, stating that a man had been found dead in this place, and as his name was H. R. Morris, it was assumed he was a brother to C. B. Morris of Colton. Mr. Morris was a brother by that name in Goldfield, and he immediately telegraphed and found that it was not he.

Henry R. Morris, the old miner and prospector who left Colton last fall for Goldfield is believed to be the dead man. He was born in Alabama, sixty-four years ago, and came to Colton in 1904. He was well known in this vicinity, having spent much time prospecting in the regions of Baldy and Lytle Creek.

STRIKE VICTIM
ENDS HIS LIFE.

SAN BERDOO MAN SENDS A BULLET THROUGH HIS BRAIN.

Bulldozed Into Quitting With Malcontents When Trouble Broke Out Between Santa Fe and Its Workmen, He Was Unable to Regain His Position and Became Despondent.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 11.—The Santa Fe strike has claimed another victim. This morning, broken down by disappointment, having run into debt and being out of work, V. S. Dooley, formerly of Walla Walla, Wash., fired a bullet into his brain, while kneeling over a little trunk containing baby clothes and toys, family keepsakes from the days when he was prosperous.

About a year ago Dooley and his wife and two little boys came here from Los Vegas, N. M., leaving the Unida rooming-house, which his wife kept while he worked as a machinist helper in the shops. They were prosperous and all was looking bright for the future when the strike was started and Dooley was bulldozed into quitting with the malcontents.

He secured a pittance for working as a laborer on the streets, and being a common rouabout for months, when he got employment as a messenger for a fruit company, and conducted several trains east. Ten days ago he lost this position, and then he walked the streets day and night, looking in vain for employment. Being one of the strikers he could not again secure his old position at the shops, much as he wished it.

Last night he was out until late, and meeting his wife this morning he told her he was going to end his life, for he was blacked out at the time, and there was nothing but accumulating debts and troubles for her so long as he lived. But, thinking that he was serious in his talk, she left the house to take a car for town. Missing the car, she returned home intending to speak a word of encouragement to the despondent man, and seeking him through the house she finally opened a door to a little room where the treasures of the family are kept, and there she found him, kneeling over the little trunk, which he had opened. Blood trickling from his head told her what had happened, and she aroused several roomers, who sent for a physician.

Only a short time after the discovery the man died without gaining consciousness. The children had returned from school and their grief was pitiful. It appears that he was unusually fond of his wife and children, but this morning when they departed for school he had refused to give them the parting kiss, and this made more keen the grief of the little family as they found him gone forever.

The remains were removed to an undertaking parlor where an inquest was held this afternoon. The verdict

Goldfield Nevada

Vaults of Gold

Six months ago, GOLDFIELD, NEVADA, was a desert. Today it has a population of some 8,000 to 10,000 people.

Over four million dollars of gold has been shipped of high-grade ore, and it is estimated that over ten million dollars of low-grade ore is now on the dumps, awaiting mills that are being built to handle this low-grade ore.

A few weeks ago, on Lease No. 5 of the celebrated SANDSTORM the lessees began sinking a shaft. They are down forty feet, and have taken out fully $500,000 in GOLD above expenses.

Goldfield, Nevada

is the greatest gold mining camp ever discovered, perhaps in the world. Many a poor man becomes rich, as if by magic. Seemingly, it is pay ore from the grass roots.

Mining ventures are always hazardous, but the hazard seems to be less in Goldfield than in any other camp that has ever been discovered.

We have no cheap stocks for sale, but we are handling some high-grade, desirable Goldfield Nevada, mining stocks that today can be bought from 40 to 50 per cent. of their face value, and which are liable within sixty or ninety days to be worth many times more than their face value.

At least, this is the history of other similarly located properties.

Do you want to get in? Do you want to invest a few dollars in Goldfield Mining Stocks? Do you want to buy a claim and organize a company for yourself?

We are making a specialty of high-grade legitimate mining properties in this truly remarkable mining camp of GOLDFIELD, NEVADA.

You are respectfully invited to call and see us, or address

I Remove the Cause

If You Come To Me And

You will realize the benefits of a treatment founded upon common sense and merit. It restores functional order of the highest standard. I think it is the only means that will produce permanent results in curable cases.

Many have been partly cured or temporarily relieved by palliative treatment. I expect permanent cures and nothing else, and my patients the full benefit they seek.

VARICOCELE
I cure soundly and completely by Dr. Morton's method. My treatment is painless and the only one that will preserve and strengthen the reproductive system.

STRICTURE
There is no other treatment which will permanently remove all soreness, inflammation, callosities or narrowing conditions. It is the most cleanly and perfect known and completely cures.

NOT BY MAIL.—This is a matter of guesswork. No one is able to give satisfactory results by such unreliable means. Thousands have tried it and failed. My method of treatment is reliable and gets at the EXACT CAUSE.

DR. MORTON, 316 South Broadway

Convulsion, Fits, then Epilepsy.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has been so successful in curing these brain-wrecking diseases that there is every reason to believe that even the most hopeless cases can be benefited, if not fully restored.

We will be pleased to reply to any one thus afflicted to many who now enjoy the blessing of health, after years of hopeless suffering.

"I have a son that had brain fever when two years old, followed by fits of the worst type, and he was pronounced incurable. I spent hundreds of dollars for him, without relief. After about fifteen years he became so bad that we sent him to Longview hospital for the insane, at Longview, Ind. He was there nearly three years, but he continued to grow worse, so we brought him home July 10, 1907, in an awful condition. He had lost his mind almost entirely. He hardly knew one of the family; could not even find his bed; was a total wreck. He had from 8 to 10 fits a day. We were urged to try Dr. Miles' Nervine, and before the first bottle was used, he was better. He was the better. We have given it to him since. He has been cured, and he can work and go anywhere. If any one wishes to ask any questions about this, they are at liberty to do so."

M. H. BUNNELL, Lincoln, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the medicine is genuine. If it fails, he will refund your money.
